Although the human touch and the need for human relationships will never be replaced by gadgets, apps or social media, technology can be utilized to reduce many of the daily tasks that exhaust family caregivers and/or prove problematic as we age.

At this Forum we will explore both high- and low-tech solutions to help you enhance communication and connection for the safety, greater independence and the well being of both caregivers and those for whom they care.
